SYNTAX

PRIVATE CLIENT

“Architecture stands as the stage of human emotion —
a celebration of the new symbiosis between nature and technology.”

The founding partners bring a wealth of experience gained through long-standing collaborations with prominent international firms across Italy, the UK and India. This includes significant tenures at Zaha Hadid Architects in London, Studio Marco Piva in Milan, and Urban Frame (Space Matrix Group) in Bangalore. These experiences have shaped the studio's approach to design and architecture, instilling a global perspective and a commitment to excellence.

The two partners have a history of collaboration dating back to 2005. Despite working in different locations and pursuing individual career paths, they successfully partnered on several projects. This established foundation of successful teamwork, despite the geographical separation, ultimately led to their decision to formally join forces and embark on this new venture together, which is now A_LM.

STUDIO

“We design with emotion and precision —
where Italian heritage meets global vision.
Each project is a crafted dialogue between culture, context, and beauty — a pursuit of depth, harmony, and enduring sophistication.”

Italian by soul. Global by vision.

A_LM founders extensive international experience, coupled with their academic pursuits, have cultivated in them a notable capacity for empathy and a nuanced understanding of the complexities inherent in diverse professional settings.

This background promotes a genuine comfort in multicultural environments and a sincere respect for differing perspectives. They possess a profound interest in design encompassing all levels of complexity.

They explore novel solutions and offer distinctive insights through an integrated framework where design practice and research serve as fundamental components of their interdisciplinary approach.

Their broad range of interests encompasses all facets of design, construction and manufacturing, enabling them to effectively merge innovative design concepts with practical market considerations.
